To Whom it may Concern,

We here at Dog Soldier Academy would like to take the time to recognize MAG Mechanical as a continued sponsor and mentoring business model.

MAG has sponsored dozen of students to compete in competitions who would otherwise not be able to afford entrance fees, transportation and event memorabilia. Almost 99% of our students are from the South side Minneapolis and come from low income, at risk neighborhoods. Tournaments that range from local to out of state of and many of our students haven't ever experienced Martial Arts competition. Our students that have been sponsored have all brought home gold or silver medals in their respective divisions and class.

As well as sponsoring our students to travel and compete in other schools, MAG has been instrumental in sponsoring our own tournament here on the Southside. The Choke Festival is our tournament, the first ever Native owned and run Jiu Jitsu tournament in the world. MAG Mechanical has contributed financial sponsorship to help us pull off a memorable tournament. From medals to mat rental, without the contributions from MAG our school wouldn't be able to host such a great event.

We look forward to a continued partnership with MAG standing on the values and beliefs that will make our Native community a better place for our youth.
